

ORIENTATION

The orientation process for new students in the fall begins on a gradual schedule so that the children have a comfortable and slow adjustment to their new school environment. This allows the children time to learn the ground rules of the class and to expand their choices of work daily. Orientation also ensures that the class as a whole adjusts positively. All students are provided with an individual attendance schedule.