

TOYS

Because toys are often a distraction and a source of conflict, we request that the student not bring toys to school. Your child may bring a favorite book or other educational item, such as a seashell collection, to share with the class during group time.